

The Wow

e-newsletter

Principles

Volume 2 No. 3 March 2006

www.PublishingSyndicate.com

Here we go again, and we need your help!

Publishing Syndicate has just signed contracts to create two new titles for Chicken Soup for the Soul books – Chicken Soup for the Menopausal Soul and Chicken Soup for the Red Hat Society Soul. Since Ken is neither menopausal nor eligible to join the 1,000,000+ member Red Hat Society women's group, Dahlynn will "officially" be the coauthor on both titles, along with series cofounders Jack Canfield and Mark Victor Hansen. For the Red Hat Society book, the group's founder and "Exalted Queen Mother" Sue Ellen Cooper is the fourth coauthor.

For every 20 stories submitted for consideration, only one will make the book. There are approximately 70 stories to a title, and both titles are expected to draw over 3,000 submissions each (yup, we'll read over 6,000 stories in the next eight months). The reason we share this with you is because you have the upper edge on other writers submitting stories; first, you're interested in writing, evident by your joining our free monthly e-newsletter, and second, you have us to "help" you.

This "help" is via our e-booklet The Wow Principles #1. For only $7.95, you will be privy to exclusive insider tips on how to construct, write and submit the perfect Chicken Soup story! If your story is selected for publication, then you're $200 richer, and more importantly, you'll have a much coveted "tear sheet" for your writing resume. But wait, the offer gets better! If you purchase The Wow Principles #1 and then submit a story for either Menopausal Soul or Red Hat Society Soul, we will

Continued on page two...

Calling all cartoonists!

We also need cartoons for both of these titles.
Please send copies only of your artwork to Story@PublishingSyndicate.com or Publishing Syndicate, PO Box 607,
Orangevale, CA 95662
See page three for deadline information.

P . S .

Published by Publishing Syndicate
Editor: Ken McKowen
info@PublishingSyndicate.com
Copyright 2006
All Rights Reserved

The Wow Principles e-newsletter

provide you with one free evaluation of your story! We generally charge up to $250 per hour for these consulting services, but for you, it's free!

This offer is open to anyone who purchases The Wow Principles #1, so tell your friends, family and writing groups! Don't forget to request your free evaluation when you send in your story for either Menopausal Soul or Red Hat Society Soul—we'll cross-reference our e-booklet database then expedite your evaluation!

To take advantage of this special offer, stories must be sent to Story@PublishingSyndicate.com. To purchase and download your copy of The Wow Principles #1, visit our website! What are you waiting for?

Do you have questions about the writing/publishing world?
Send them to Questions@PublishingSyndicate.com

The National Steinbeck Center's 10,000 Poems Project

Copyright Jonny Hawkins

The National Steinbeck Center, located in Salinas, California, is accepting submissions from all kinds of poets and writers with diverse perspectives and backgrounds. The 10,000 Poems Project seeks poems on whatever topic you wish, and they do not need to relate to or mention John Steinbeck.

All forms of poetry will be accepted and rhyming isn't necessary! Poems can be serious, witty, heartfelt, light, fantasy, historically-based, realistic, free verse, sonnets, whatever strikes your fancy. There is no line limit. Multiple submissions are permitted. Previously published poems are also accepted as long as the rights still belong to the author. There's no cash awards for poems. Here's a chance to be part of a great literary project, and possibly get into the Guinness Book of Records!

Visit www.10000Poems.com to learn more!

www.PublishingSyndicate.com

HOT STUFF! HOT STUFF!

Please send stories for the following two titles directly to Story@PublishingSyndicate.com. Be sure to read the story on page one for extra-value incentives from Publishing Syndicate as it relates to these two titles:

Chicken Soup for the Menopausal Soul

Light-hearted stories about that “second coming-of-age” told from the perspectives of those women who have experienced it and those men who have lived through it!

Deadline: November 1, 2006

Slated Release: August 2007

Chicken Soup for the Red Hat Society Soul

This book will feature stories by the women who belong to this very unique, worldwide women’s organization.

Deadline: November 1, 2006

Slated Release: November 2007

Stories needed from dieters for Chicken Soup for the Dieter’s Soul

If you’ve tried every diet under the sun, the latest fad, pill and potion while trying to realize or maintain your goal weight, we would love for you to share your “war stories” with us!

Tentative chapter headings include Mind and Matter, Eating Well, Keeping Fit, What You See is NOT What You Get and The New You. We envision Dieter’s Soul to be a dieter’s best friend, a source for inspiration, motivation, support, humor and success! To learn more about this newest title from Chicken Soup for the Soul books, please visit www.DietersSoul.com.

Go for it! You can do it! Get published!